

WESTON'S IS ON ALLEGSTON W. Va. — A Red Christmas seal contest between cities of West Virginia and Minnesota is now in progress. Governor Cornwell announced here Friday that Governor Cornwell recently issued challenge to other states to equal organizing the tuberculosis seals sold this year as competitive with last year. Governor J.
R. Nugent of Minnesota has telegraphed the West Virginia Tuberculosis Association that he accepts the challenge on behalf of the residents of the state.

ARREST OF BOYS BELIEVED TO CLEAR UP ROBBERIES

Three are Held, Two Sought for Series of Crimes—Confession Received by Police, They Say—Loot Is Recovered

With the arrest of three youths Friday morning, police believe they have cleared up a number of robberies that have happened in Lima in the last two weeks.

Earl Vawters, 17, 608 Michael-st., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Vawters, confessed to participating in nine recent robberies and, police say, complicated four other boys, two of whom, William Lefler and Howard Mitchell, are already occupying cells in the city prison.

ADMITTING MEALING AUTO

The Vawters boy told of stealing a touring car from in front of 623 W. Spring-st. Thursday night, police declare, and his statements resulted in the arrest of William Lefler, 19, of 1121 Keil-st., at his home shortly before noon.

Vawters, in his alleged confession, told Sgt. Eberle and Lefler had abandoned the car in a woods, about three miles east of Lima. He took the officers to where he said they had left the car and it was recovered. He is said to have confessed to Sgt. Frank Eberle, Detective Billstine and Officer Frank Kinzer that he and Lefler stole the car before robbing the home of Maurice Snider, 1019 Wayne-st., where they are alleged to have stolen a diamond ring valued at $85, a silk shirt and a .32 calibre revolver.

According to police, a skeleton key which was found on Vawters after his arrest, was used in entering the majority of residences.

Officer Frank Kinzer spotted him as he was leaving the Pastore (Cigar store on E. Market-st. He followed him south on Union to Spring and just on Spring to Central and north to the first alley where he was nabbed.

At police headquarters he was searched and two guns were found on his person, one at his belt and the other in his vest. Both were loaded, police say. Besides the guns, two large flashlights were found, several rings, a variety of keys, a mask, and a number of cartridges.

He wore a pair of army pants and leggings, outside his regular trousers in which a quantity of the loot was found.

Nothing was found on Lawler.

The other youth who is said to have participated in the robbery of the Snider home Thursday night is Howard Mitchell, 17, of 331 S. Main-st.

Places Vawters confessed to entering are as follows:

R. L. Graham's residence, 429 S. Cole-st., the night of November 29. Three quarts of whiskey and a set of Elk's teeth stolen.

D. H. Crites' residence, 607 W. Elm-st., Winchester rifle stolen, December 1.

Maurice Snider's residence, 1019 W. Wayne-st., a diamond ring valued at $85, one shirt, and a .32 calibre revolver, stolen December 2.

R. L. Mueck's residence, 524 W. Elm-st., entered November 30. One revolver, a flash light and two rings stolen.

Eric Coal Co. office, entered November 29, a .32 calibre automatic revolver and cartridges stolen.

Busick's Grocery, 435 S. Pine-st.

TELL ME WHAT YOU READ; I'LL TELL YOU WHAT YOU ARE

What do you read, real literature or trash?

This is the season of shut-in evenings and a resolution to make good use of them this winter by reading something really worth while, instead of wasting time to no purpose, is not amiss.

The librarian at the Public Library will be glad to designate books which make first-class reading matter.

"Man is perennially interesting to man," said Carlyle; "may, if we look strictly to it, there is nothing else interesting." It is the dramatic essence of human life that constitutes that attraction of the short story and the longer novel. The human man is interested in his brother human.

Biography is probably the most fascinating and truest form of literary expression. It is the human element which forms its chief charm and it is the human element which has been kept in mind in compiling a list of the most desirable books which provide proper reading.

Visits to the public library might be made with profit once a week, to learn the good things to be found there. Many mothers in Lima, anxious to create a taste for the better books in the minds of their children, accompany them to the library.

There is no family in the city who may not use the library and the sooner books are taken out, the better off the moral atmosphere of the family, educators and literary men reason.

From time to time, in lists published, may be found books which can be secured, to the taste of every member of the family. Many calls are now being received, especially in the junior department, which tell of Kris Kringle and his wonderful trip here from the North Pole.

JUDGE BASES SENTENCE FOR MOTOR LAW VIOLATION ON PARABLE FROM BIBLE

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — Mayor William H. Gillmore, of this city, announces that law founded on the Bible is good enough for him. A local man charged with not having the tail-light burning on his automobile was arraigned before the Mayor and fined $3. The accused protested and said it was a poor law under which he was fined and he did not think it would hold water in court.

The Mayor responded that any law founded on the Bible was good enough for him.

The defendant said he could not see where a tail-light of an automobile had anything to do with the Bible. The Mayor looked pityingly at the accused.

"Do you remember," he remarked, "that story about the Ten Virgins, five of whom had lights and five of whom didn't? Well, if you do, you will remember that the Lord would not have anything to do with the five without lights, and neither will this court."

TRIAL OF DAMAGE SUIT IS ECHO OF ACCIDENT

Damages in the sum of $497.89 are asked of the Ohio Electric railway company by L. D. Clevenger and B. F. Holmes, in a trial begun Friday in common pleas court.

According to testimony, their auto truck was damaged by an Ohio Electric car at Yoder in December last. They claim they were forced to discontinue the milk business as a result. As partners under the name of the Buckeye Now and Second Hand Store, they were carrying milk to Lima for the White Mountain Dairy company.

GROVE CITY ROBBERS HEADED FOR LIMA

Police here Friday were notified of a bank robbery at Grove City, where five men driving a large blue touring car are reported to have held up and robbed a bank, getting away with $6,000.

It was reported that they were headed toward Lima, last being seen at Milledburg, eight miles southeast of Bellefontaine.

PLAN ARREST OF WALK OWNERS

Drastic Action May be Taken Where Repair is Neglected

That the city officials mean business in starting a crusade against bad sidewalks in Lima was evidenced Friday when, at the order of Mayor Burkhardt, Service Director McClain had men engaged in erecting a barricade around an old open cellar flush with the sidewalk at the northwest corner of Central-ave and North-st., where a building had been removed.

The use of cinders for a temporary walk was also ordered, to be replaced later by a concrete walk of the proper character, all at the expense of the property affected. Mayor Burkhardt stated Friday that a menacing condition existed at the corner specified for a long time and that it is determined to remedy it, along with similar conditions in other parts of the city. Photographs of the walk and property at North-st and Central-ave were taken before the repair work was begun, to be employed as evidence in event of contention over the payment of the cost.

Mayor Burkhardt stated that record has been made of various places where banks of earth have been permitted to slide down onto walks and banks exist between the walk and the curb, making the sidewalk in reality a ditch in time of rain.

City Solicitor Gaudin has held that the city is equally liable with the property owner in event of an accident or personal injury as a result of defective walks. Mayor Burkhardt said Friday that it is intended to make one or more arrests of property owners responsible for bad sidewalk conditions, to bring about test cases.

"The condition of numerous walks is such that some drastic action appears to be necessary," the mayor said, "as property owners fail, refuse or neglect to carry out official orders for repairs or building new walks. Lima has 200 miles of sidewalks and a considerable part of it is in such shape that it is a mistake to refer to it as sidewalk."

STUDENTS IMITATED BIRDS IN TREE TOPS

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Eight students at Ohio State University were up a tree.

This is a truism that is literal, rather than figurative.

This octet of red-blooded young chaps were being initiated into a fraternity.

Part of the initiation ceremony called for action in climbing to the top of the tallest trees they could find in the vicinity of the university campus, whose lowest limbs were sufficiently high to protect them from easy attack from the ground.

Taking their positions in the trees, the students were under orders to sing all at the same time, but each man was to carry a different tune. The "sing" was to last from 7 p. m. until the birds started their music-making at dawn next morning.

The trees thus utilized were on the lawn of Common Pleas Judge E. B. Kinkead. An hour of the bedlam was all the judge could stand. He called the police. It was about 10 p. m., however, before a couple of full patrolmen, unable to reach the young men, were reinforced by a patrol wagonload of policemen.

It was not until the officers threatened to call the fire department and turn the hose on them that the students got down off their perches.

All the way to the police headquarters the students kept up their outlandish vocalizing. But justice was tempered with mercy, and they were let off with a reprimand.

Having so money they had to walk to the fraternity house, all the way.

MEN AND MATTERS

D. H. Kincaid has returned from Norfolk, Va., where he had been spending several days.

J. H. Wallace, manager of the J. C. Penny company, has come to St. Paul and St. Cloud, Minn., on a business trip.

ON CHARGE OF THEFT

John Parrott, 32, employee of the Lima Locomotive works, is in the county jail, unable to provide bond in the sum of $500. Parrott was bound over late Thursday afternoon from Justice E. M. Botkin's court on the charge of theft of materials from his employer. His home is said to be in Spencerville.

DEATH AWARD CONTESTED

COLUMBUS.—An award of $5,000 to Charles L. Drake, infant, whose father was killed in Mahoning-co. in an industrial accident, is contested in suit filed in the supreme court Friday by the state industrial commission, which lost the case in both common pleas and appellate courts in Summit-co.

BURDEN FUNERAL SATURDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Eliza Burden, wife of George Burden, 1215 St. Johns-ave., who died Wednesday night, will be held Saturday at 10:30 o'clock at the South Side Church of Christ. The Rev. W. H. Baker will officiate. Interment will be at St. Matthew's Lutheran cemetery, Shawnee-tp.

VISIT ALLEN-CO FARMS

G. W. Vickers, poultry expert at the Ohio State University, Columbus, was in Lima Thursday and in company with L. S. VanNatta, county farm agent, made a trip to the demonstration farms for poultry in the county.

The three poultry demonstration farms in Allen-co. are those of D. C. Campbell, near Rockport; C. B. Clevenger, near Gomer, and J. N. Patterson and Son, Lafayette.

LEGAL NOTICE

Margaret DeYoung Urfer, whose last known residence and post office address was Krayenhorst Street, No. 47, Haas, Holland, is hereby notified that on the 11th day of November, 1920, Albert Urfer filed his petition for divorce and for such other relief as is equitable, on the ground of gross neglect of duty, fraudulent contract and extreme cruelty, in case number 19491 of the Common Pleas Court of Allen County, Ohio, and that the said case will be for hearing on and after December 27, 1920.

VIEWS TAKEN TO HARDING

Daugherty to Meet Senator After Parley With Chiefs

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—Harry M. Daugherty, Senator Harding's pre-convention manager, left here Friday for Norfolk to meet the president-elect whose ship is due Saturday. Just before leaving, Daugherty conferred with Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, and late Thursday he conferred with Senator Lodge, Republican leader.

Daugherty is carrying to Harding the views of the party leaders here on the problems which are facing the next administration, some of which are to be decided in conferences after Harding reaches the capital.

Interest in the visit of Harding to Washington, centered about several questions, including: Whether he would visit the White House and whether that visit would be merely one of courtesy or one of official significance.

Whether Harding would speak on the senate floor during his stay here, which it is understood will last two or three days.

Whether the president-elect would reach any decision on foreign relations or cabinet selections while here.

Coinciding with Daugherty's visit, reports were circulated that Harding contemplated sending a peace commission to Europe.

CAMPAIGN TO AID WAR SUFFERERS IS OPENED

BOSTON, Mass.—"I would rather have the American flag implanted in the hearts of the children of Europe than flying over any citadel of victory," said Herbert Hoover Friday in presenting to a gathering of business men and women here the obligation upon this country to supply the needs of three and a half millions of youthful sufferers by the war in eastern and central Europe. The occasion marked the formal opening in New England of the nation-wide campaign for $23,000,000, which it is estimated will be required to keep the children alive until the next harvest.

HAYS BELIEVED SLATED FOR POSTMASTER GENERAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Senator Harry New, doped by politicians at a recent French Lick conference to accept a cabinet position to all Will Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee to be appointed as his successor, has notified friends here he will not resign. It was learned Friday, New, it was said, wrote friends here he would refuse any cabinet offer and remain in the senate.

New's decision is taken to mean that Hays is to be offered the position of postmaster general.

NON-SUPPORT CHARGE

80 MEN FINED

CINCINNATI — Eighty men, caught in one day's haul of the police dragnet, were fined $50 and costs each in police court Friday and given the alternative to leave town at once. The police announce they will continue the crusade until every idler or vagrant is eliminated. Three hold-ups occurred last night.

BALLOT BURNING IS STOPPED

Election Board Ordered by Court to Defer Action

Suit filed against A. J. Gray and John W. Thompson by Walter W. Craig, contesting their election on November 2 to terms of four years each as commissioners of Allen-co., resulted in plans of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections relative to the disposition of the ballots cast in the election being halted Friday.

Under the terms of the law, which requires that the ballots be held intact for 30 days after an election, plans had been made to burn the ballots on Friday. However, late Thursday afternoon an order issued by Judge William Klinger in the case of Craig vs. Gray and Thompson, was served on J. M. Madigan, chief deputy of the board of elections, that all ballots cast in the county on November 2 be held for further orders of the court, under Sections 5080-1 of the General Code.

BIG ESTIMATES ON CITY SEWER CONTRACTS

City Auditor D. L. Rupert Friday announced the November estimate on the Collett-st sewer, totaling $12,950.78 and on the S. Central-ave relief sewer $11,883.24.

The total estimates to date paid on the Collett-st sewer is $186,110.25. This is a half million dollar improvement. The total estimates paid on the S. Central-ave relief sewer is $91,500.24, a quarter million improvement.

ESTIMATE OF MARKET-ST. REPAVING IS SUBMITTED

Elmer D. Webb, John Mohr and C. E. Stiles, estimating board on the E. Market-st., repaving improvement, from the B. & O. railroad to the Ottawa river bridge, submitted their estimate, Friday, of the cost to the property owners of the improvement for a total of $12,653. This amount is independent of the cost to the Ohio Electric for its share of the repaving of the street. The report will go to council Monday.

PLUM IS PICKED FOR WALLACE

Mackenzie Helps Andy Gray Land Glen as Commissioner Clerk

Glen I. Wallace, 621 W. Springfield, was elected clerk of the board of commissioners, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock just before that body closed their work for the day. He will serve until next September.

Wallace takes the place of Bernard Halloran, who has efficiently served in that position for three years, under seven different commissioners. Halloran resigned on November 10, effective as soon as the position could be filled. He is at present in charge of the recreational rooms at the Knights of Columbus building.

The retirement of Commissioner James G. Mackenzie, Democrat, after next September, may change the clerkship of the board again. Wallace was endorsed by the Republican executive committee. He is the defeated Republican candidate for clerk of courts.

Commissioner Walter W. Craig did not vote for Wallace. The two votes which elected him were those of Commissioners A. J. Gray, Republican, and James G. Mackenzie, Democrat.

Craig stood out for the appointment of Herbert Neuffer, who held the position for a few months under the term of Commissioners Heath and Craig in 1919. The death of Heath changed the political complexion of the board and Halloran was put back as clerk.

Commissioner Gray made a motion for the election of former Custodian

B. F. Christy at Memorial hall. Craig refused to vote on the motion, as did Mackenzie.

Announcement was made that D. W. Morris, Democrat, would remain in charge there until a choice was made. It was also announced to appointments which the board has the power to bestow and be changed at this time, save possibly custodian at Memorial hall.

MAY SOLVE MYSTERY
ATHOL, Mass.—In the case of solving one of the greatest murder mysteries in the state of Massachusetts, medical experts are conducting an examination of a skeleton found in a sandbank between South-Boy-alston and Winchendon and which may prove to be that of Frank J. Burns, a Marlboro jewelry salesman who was robbed of $800 worth of samples and slain December 17, 1903, the body never having been found.

H. L. CONN RUNS AHEAD OF HIS TICKET 15,000

The official count for judge of the court of appeals in this district evidences that H. L. Conn of Van Wert was defeated in the November 2 election by about 15,000 majority, but he has the unique record of being more than 15,000 votes ahead of his ticket.

He is ahead of his ticket in Allen-co 2,800, in Auglaize-co 1,500, in Defiance-co 1,000, in Paulding-co 800, in Lorain-co 1,800, in Mercer-co 2,200 and in Van Wert-co more than 4,000.

In view of the fact that there are 16 counties in this judicial district, a month's time has been required to secure the official vote of all the counties.

WAPAKONETA—Married: Bernard McCullough, 23, and Olga Schroers, 21, Washington-tp.

"Pape's Cold Compound" Breaks any Cold in a Few Hours

Instant Relief! Don't say stuff-up! Quit blowing and sneezing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks any cold right up. The first dose opens clogged-up nostrils and air passage, of head; stops nose running; relieves headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It gets without assistance. Tasteless. Contains no quinine. Insist upon Pape's. Adv.

On the Third Floor they are selling Georgette Blouses which are regularly priced at $5.95 and $6.95, for $1.95.

All the Lingerie Blouses on the First Floor, including the famous "Fleur-de-Lis" hand-made and "Forsythe" tailored blouses, are selling for half price.

Camisoles and Brassieres in satin, crepe de chine and lace, have been placed on sale at half price. Whether for gifts or for personal use, it is an exceptional opportunity at this season. Fourth Floor.

Doll Lamps make pretty gifts, also. These come in all the dainty colors and have been reduced from $8.95 to $5.00, especially for Christmas. They are to be found on the First Floor.

In the Children's Department on the Fourth Floor, they have a number of rain capes reduced to $4.50. Some of them were priced as high as $8.50. Raincoats of silk in sizes up to 12 years, have been reduced from $15.00 to $10.00. These are practical gifts for the kiddies and they like them, too.

Then there is the Handkerchief Booth on the Second Floor. They are of linen, cotton and silk—initialled, with embroidered corners, lace edged, and with gay colored borders—to suit everyone's taste.

Visit Lima's Best Toyland!!

DEAR MR. SANTA CLAUS

Lima, Ohio.
 Dec. 4, 1920.

You know Santa that I am expecting to have such a wonderful Christmas this year and I want you to bring me lots of things. First I want a Dolly and Baby Carriage and a set of dishes and a Kiddy Car and lots more things. Brother Tommy wants a drum, an aeroplane, a soldier outfit, fire, a set of erector sets and don't forget dear Santa all the other girls in Lima—especially the poor ones. I'm going down to the Leader Store with Mother and I am going to pick out the things that we want—Good bye.

Recent declines on market quotations found us with only small stocks of High Priced Merchandise—We were prepared to take advantage of the new lower prices—During the past few weeks we have affected tremendous purchases from Mills, Jobbers and Manufacturers, all anxious to sell at great losses in order that they might turn their stocks into cash—To meet these new conditions, we have reduced prices on practically every item in the store, and added them to the new incoming goods—affording patrons of the Gregg Store savings of from 25% to 50%.

ALL THE MONEY YOU HAVE CANNOT BUY TWO WORDS IN THESE COLUMNS OPEN LETTERS

To Soft Drink Manufacturers and Dispensers
FRIENDS: I did not grumble when sugar and syrups went up in price and you raised your prices. I could see how it would be impossible for you to continue to operate on the old basis with necessities for your business costing many times their normal price.

Then the crash came. All lines of merchandise, in fact all manufactured articles, dropped suddenly. Sugar, the commodity on which you based your increase, dropped from 28 and 30 cents a pound to 11 cents. I have been unable to notice any material effects when buying your products.

Sugar has been down long enough, it appears to me, to cause a reduction in your prices. When the staple was at the peak price it could not be had in large quantities which would indicate that you did not stock up heavily, but even if you did why not follow the example of all other Lima dealers and take your loss? They have been and still are taking losses. Why should you be an exception?

LIMA BEANE.

To Service Director McClain

MY DEAR MAC: My attention was directed, Tuesday, to the activities of the street cleaning force in the matter of giving the surface of my downtown brick paved streets a much-needed washing.

Any number of my people have expressed commendation for your thoughtful idea carried into effect and while I'm thinking about it, I want to add my voice thereto in the form of a typewriter effort with printing ink aid.

Getting the accumulation of debris off the street is a splendid idea. Thank you.

LIMA BEANE.

Stage Stuff, Charlie

I NOTICE that Charles Schwab, the steel king, was pictured recently wearing a pair of ragged, decrepit looking gloves. To every appearance they might have been a little token to the magnate from the ash man. Beneath the picture, was an explanation that Charlie had "worn these gloves for over a year."

Yet Charlie, I think, would not advise one of the rising young executives of his company to wear old or soiled gloves. On the contrary, he likely would "call down" that young executive for doing exactly what he has bragged about.

Mr. Schwab can afford to wear old gloves. If he wanted to he could wear green golf knickerbockers to work and get away with it. But the rest of the world, exclusive of Mr. Dempsey, Mary Garden, Babe Ruth and other prima donnas who have "arrived," so to speak, in their respective careers, must watch its step.

One look at a man's hand gives you an instant line on his character. Is the hand soft and flabby? Or is it the hand of a man who does things? You pride yourself on your shoes, yes? But only Madame is careful about gloves. So Charlie, why not throw 'em away and come clean?

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Rabbit Fanciers

DEAR BOYS: I want to commend you for your thoughtfulness in serving sandwiches made from rabbit meat to the ladies who visited your show at Memorial Hall, Wednesday.

I venture that antipathy to the use of rabbit meat was removed effectively in many instances. That the domesticated rabbit is going to play a big part in affording future meat supply, I am firmly convinced.

LIMA BEANE.

To Everyone

CHIRSTMAS is only 22 days away. Again I urge, SHOP EARLY.

LIMA BEANE.

To City Auditor Rupert

DEAR DAVE: Your report on the results of the management of my municipal waterworks plant for the month of November is reassuring, even tho I am admittedly skeptical concerning the advisability of a city owning a utility of any sort.

I am mighty glad that the receipts for the past month show an increase over the corresponding month last year. I sure have been sorely tried in finding money to pay increased costs of materials and supplies and higher salaries to my employees, with no increase in water rates to meet same.

LIMA BEANE.

To Restaurant Proprietors

PORK chops cost me as much today as several months ago when hogs were selling at $23. Meat prices have dropped. When are you going to cut your prices?

LIMA BEANE.

To the Lima Board of Education To Supt. J. E. Collins

GENTLEMEN: I understand you believe it will be necessary to build two new school buildings and add to my two high schools next year. Of course that will cost money, but you have been exceptionally careful with my money for the last few years. I can think of no reason why I should not dig down if you say it is necessary.

LIMA BEANE.

To Lima Merchants

GENTLEMEN: Beware the bogus check, swindler! The time of year is here for his work and he is already operating. He may cost you a big sum if you are careless.

LIMA BEANE.

To Mayor Burkhart

DEAR FRANK: I see by the papers that you have been getting busy, with the assistance of members of your official family, in lamping the sidewalks in various places in my streets, where sidewalks are sorely in need of repairs and I understand it is your intention to see to it that they are given attention forthwith.

I have long tried to impress upon my people that it is their duty to have sidewalks in such a state of repair that it will be safe for anyone to walk over them without the necessity of keeping their eyes cast down to avoid disaster. In too many places it is necessary to "watch your step."

I trust that you will invoke the majesty of the law, particularly since a state statute makes me equally liable with the owner when anyone suffers injury by reason of a defective sidewalk.

LIMA BEANE.

To the Public

MY FRIENDS: Buy Christmas seals! You can assist in the great battle against the dread disease, tuberculosis, by purchasing these little stamps for sealing your Christmas packages and letters. They may be obtained now.

LIMA BEANE.

To High Cost of Living

OLD CRAB: The measure of my pleasure that you are being given the skidoo sign cannot be adequately expressed in mere words, but since you've been long over-staying your welcome, you'll probably appreciate how I feel about it, now that you are at last packing up your suit case and trunk and preparing to vamoose.

You have been an unwelcome star boarder for a long time and I trust that the train that is to convey you elsewhere will be on time.

LIMA BEANE.

AS YOU LIKE IT

The man whose corn is stepped on usually is the one who yells, "Ouch."

Maybe the reason we haven't had an attempted jail delivery in Lima recently is because of the housing problem.

The coal men who are selling slate as coal can't be said to have a clean slate.

Judge Landis still calls baseball a sport. Even that $50,000 salary hasn't shown him the difference between a sport and a business.

When a hungry polar party, frozen blue, is beleaguered by the icebergs in a jam, where no food can hope to battle thru, we can wire them the picture of a ham!

President Wilson has decided to stay in Washington and write a history. Probably the idea is to write it where he made it.

Perhaps they are making that dreadful poison gas out of onions and garlic. The supply of ingredients, if they are, hasn't been depleted in Lima.

Everyone can be flattered. The only question is, how easily may it be done.

Now that women are eligible to the presidency, suppose one was elected to that office. Could her husband hope to get a cabinet position or would he have to content himself with a second-class postoffice?

Theodore Jurgens says he isn't reading newspapers now for a few weeks. He got so much good out of the election news that he doesn't want to see anything that might make him forget it.—Filley (Neb.) Spotlight

Why not get out some of the old campaign posters about "Wiggle and Wobble" and put them up in several of Lima's dance halls?

Woodman, spare not that pole! Lima's a city, not a forest. Clear her streets of the unsightly things.

Some people believe there is a lot of good in most of the present-day reform campaigns. Yes, there's a lot of good in a rat biscuit too; it's all good except the poison.

Bill Sidler and some of his fellow idlers were inspecting the new steel awning that A. M. McCrea is putting on two sides of his new building on Main-st. "This will be great for our gang to hover under this winter, won't it, Bill?" his friend asked. Bill looked at the front and the side of the building. There was no brick wall, all plate glass. "I don't know about that," Bill grunted. "That ornery Art McCrea's gone an' put in so darn many winders they ain't no place for a pore man to lean."—Lamar (Mo.) Democrat.

TODAY'S HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

SISTERS WILL BE SISTERS

I wonder, asks a pulchritudinous pupil who calls herself a stout matron twenty-five years of age, I wonder if you will decide a most perplexing problem about which my sister, Marie, and I have disagreed. The particular difficulty is this: Sister Marie maintains most obstinately and unreasonably that "colds" are spread mainly when any one has a "fresh cold," i. e., in the coughing and sneezing stage. She holds that the germs are forcibly ejected in bits of mucus or phlegm or saliva sprayed out from the nose in sneezing and from the mouth in coughing or talking or laughing, if nose and mouth are not covered with handkerchief or a hideous gauze mask. Moreover, Marie says all this with such a maddening air of assurance. Whereas, I contend ever so gently and smilingly that she is all wrong. I contend that you catch a "cold" simply by inhaling the breath of the wretched person who has the "cold." Of course, sister admits that if one gets close enough to the nose and mouth of the victim to be breathed upon, one is likely to catch the cold, and thus is reasonably certain to get some of the germs on one's hands, and so, perhaps, carelessly brush them or carry them in to the mouth. Which, of course, is ridiculous isn't it? Dear Doctor Brady, I pray you, hurry and tell us how absurd sister Marie's version is and how accurate is my own. Marie will be so anxious to know.

WHAT the STARS PREDICT

This is a lucky day. For women the stars indicate good fortune, especially for those who earn their livings by writing or doing clerical work.

Great achievements are foretold for women in city and state organizations when any persons whose birthday this is, may expect a year of many changes, leading to good fortune.

Children born today, especially those born in the morning, should be generally successful in all undertakings. (Copyright, 1929)

YOUR NAME

MACDERMOT—Mac-

BY PHILIP FRANCIS NOWLAN
VARIATIONS—MacDermid, Mac-

DERMOTT, MacDiarmid, Darby.
RACIAL ORIGIN—Gaelic.
SOURCE—A Given Name.
Family names of this group are common in both Ireland and Scotland, coming as they do from the same given name. But the evidence is that they originated in both countries independently.

The given name is a very ancient one, and is found spelled variously, "Diarmid," "Dermid" and "Diarmid." It is one that is found all thru the history of Ireland, long before it was taken from that country to the land destined to be known in the future as Scotland by the Irish clans known as the Dalriadic Scots.

But probably the most noteworthy "Diarmid," at least the one who had the greatest influence on the history of Ireland, was one who lived later, at the time of the first Anglo-Norman invasion. He was a king of Leinster, a romantic figure, the a traitor to his Celtic blood, who invited the aid of Earl Strongbow and the English in attacks on neighboring Irish kingdoms.

In Scotland the family name of MacDermid and MacDiarmid is borne chiefly by members of one of the sept of the Clan Campbell of Argyll, who derive it from a chieftain of that name, celebrated as "the layer of the wild boar," who was the progenitor of the house of Argyll.

The given name, "in the ancient Gaelic tongue, meant "free-man." Tomorrow — Fortescue

DOCTORS STILL WORKING ON M'SWINEY CASE

What Kept Spark of Life In Lord Mayor of Cork for Seventy-Four Days Remains Puzzle to the Medical World

LONDON — Altho some time has elapsed since the death of Alderman Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, in Brixton Prison, interest in the case has by no means died out—particularly in medical circles.

Irrespective of the questions of right or wrong involved in the matter, professional men are interested in judging how he managed to keep alive so long without—apparently—anything in the nature of food. For seventy-four days MacSwiney retained the spark of life, in his body—a body not by any means in the best of health when he entered on his self-imposed fast—and the topic of discussion is—"How was it done?"

It is now recognized as certain that he was not given any food during that time by any member of his family. His two sisters did not give him anything; on the other hand, they encouraged him in his determination to starve himself to death as a protest against his sentence. Father Dominic, his spiritual adviser, took an oath that he did not give him food in any shape, and the suggestion that he was sustained by the administration of Holy Communion twice a day can be dismissed very quickly because in such cases the recipient does not drink the wine and all he takes is the very small wafer. Even this was at first refused by MacSwiney because he had a suspicion that it was used for the purpose of concealing a stimulant, and it was not until he was assured to the contrary that he would accept it.

The suggestion that he was given nourishment by his wife in the same manner as done by a devoted daughter to her father in olden times must also be dismissed.

Therefore, once more comes up the question of "How?"

EXPERT EXPLANATION
The medical profession is looking forward with much interest to an article, which it is rumored, will be written for one of the leading medical journals by one of the physicians who attended MacSwiney and who saw him at least two or three times a day.

Medical ethics, so strictly observed in England, will not permit any of the attending physicians to make a statement for publication. All any of them can do is to write a thorough technical account for publication in the professional papers.

At the same time, from statements made by members of the family, it is known that stimulants were administered as soon as MacSwiney became unconscious and the testimony of Mrs. MacSwiney at the inquest when she testified that the doctor informed her that it was then his duty to do all in his power to save the life of his patient, shows that he received food—altho too late to save his life.

WEEKS OF STARVING
But this was seventy days after MacSwiney had started his fast, and the puzzle is still to tell how a man could be kept alive so long with it food. The statement of the Right Hon. E. Shortt, Home Secretary, made in the House of Commons, throws some light on the subject.

Mr. Shortt said:
"The doctors will do as they have done consistently, what they consider the best for the prisoner's interests. Their business is to try to keep him alive. If the doctors think lime juice would ease him, help him to live and give him another chance of seeing sense, they will be perfectly justified in trying to persuade him to take it, and, indeed, if necessary, forcing it."

"I know he has taken certain medicines, like fruit salt, from time to time. I am satisfied that whatever the doctors have been doing has been done from a sense of pure mercy and consideration and in what they consider to be the best possible interests of the prisoner himself."

DRANK HOT WATER
The suggestion which is most believed by the "man on the street" is that MacSwiney was given stimulants in his hot water and that the

SUDDEN RIVER RISE STOPS BRIDGE WORK

A sudden and unexpected, as well as unexplained rise in the stage of water in Ottawa river Thursday, put a sudden stop to further progress of the work on the concrete bridge abutment, north side of the river, at Metcalfe-st. The water footings were being placed, the water having been "dammed" off by contractor Zopher Blodgett.

City Engineer Miller states that for some unknown reason the water to the river suddenly arose and flooded the excavation. Blodgett has the footings completed and is ready to pour concrete for the abutment but is unable to secure cement. He is also having trouble with a concrete mixer.

TINY SAILBOAT SURPASSES FEAT OF COLUMBUS BY OCEAN TRIP

The "Typhoon," tied up at Staten Island, N. Y., after completing its unique trip.

NEW YORK — The crew of the tiny schooner Typhoon—about 45 feet over all—which recently tied up at the municipal dock, Staten Island, can envisage the adventures of the first navigators who dared cross the Atlantic. In their small craft they have completed an 8,000 mile voyage to England and return.

The log of the Typhoon is an interesting piece of literature of adventure, for such entries as the rescue of two sailors who had been swept overboard by a heavy sea and the loss of provisions in mid-ocean.

With a crew of two able bodied seamen and two Boy Scouts, Capt. William Washburn Nutting, editor of the Motor Boat, proved what he had started out to prove, that a small sailboat, properly managed and properly navigated, could sail the high seas in any kind of weather.

The boat sailed from Baddeck, N. S. on July 17 last, and in just fifteen days and nine hours the little schooner pulled into Cowes, Isle of Wight. Thence Captain Nutting went to attend the Harmsworth trophy races. On September 21 the ketch started home by way of the Bay of Biscay and the Azores.

Fifteen days out when the skipper caught his first glimpse of the islands their troubles began. For four days the small craft was whipped about. Grizzled marines in bigger and stronger boats became worried and fled to the coasts for shelter.

The Typhoon lost its mizzenmast, but despite her crippled condition she reached Santa Maria in safety. The crews of American ships in that port assisted Captain Nutting in making repairs and the Typhoon resumed its voyage.

Two days after the storm subsided the Spanish steamer G. Sorolla sighted the Typhoon's distress signals and replenished its larders.

The Typhoon, Captain Nutting said, was built at Alexander Graham Bell's laboratory, at Baddeck, and is of schooner rig. It was forty-five feet all over length, thirty-six feet water line, twelve feet beam and one-half foot draught. She was equipped with an auxiliary engine, which was seldom used.

WOMEN BURNED

Oil Used in Starting Fire and Explosion Follows

COLUMBUS — (By United Press) — One woman is dead and another seriously burned, as the result of a coal oil explosion while building a fire at their home here early Friday morning. The dead woman is Mrs. Charles Pentz, mother of three children. Mrs. Pentz's mother, Mrs. Vos Trass, 55, is not expected to live.

While starting the fire in their cook stove Friday, Mrs. Pentz poured oil on the flames. The blaze striking the screams of her daughter, Mrs. Trass went to her assistance and in attempting to extinguish the flames, ignited her own clothing.

Neighbors smothered the women's burning clothing and they were rushed to a hospital where Mrs. Pentz died.

CLEVELAND POLICE CHIEF MAY RESIGN, REPORT

CLEVELAND — Chief of Police Frank W. Smith was not at his desk at police headquarters Friday morning following a conference with Mayor Fitzgerald Thursday night when he obtained a furlough for an indefinite period. Inspector John W. Rowlands was named to take charge of the department during Smith's absence.

The chief's leave of absence gave rise to reports that he might resign as a result of the civil service commissioning Police Sergeant M. J. Harwood to his rank after being reduced to a patrolman.

Engineer Advocates Plan For Use of Water Power

MONTREAL, Que.—International agreements by which 4,000,000 horsepower a year could be developed at Niagara Falls for manufacturing purposes in the United States and Canada were urged by T. Kenard Thompson, a noted engineer, in an address here.

"If the policy of the five pioneer companies now using power at Niagara Falls were followed," said Mr. Thompson, "the greatest manufacturing district in the world would be established between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario on both sides of Niagara River. The results in expenditures by private individuals and corporations would be measured by billions of dollars. International agreements should be formed whereby 4,000,000 horsepower can be developed annually without interfering with the rights of the pioneer companies or destroying the cat-tact.

"This could be done without expense to either Government. The two Governments could levy a tax of $20 a horsepower, which would mean that each Government would be assured of an income of $40,000,000 a year without financial obligations. The most valuable water power possibilities in America, if not in the world, are at Niagara Falls. The part of Canada contiguous to Niagara is a rich apple, grape and farm region. The water power plan, it is pointed out, would not only stimulate industries but increase agricultural development and settlements.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION GRANTED BY COURT IN GAS SUPPLY SITUATION

"It is not our habit to try lawsuits in the newspapers," President Emmett Curtin of the Lima Natural Gas Co. said Friday concerning the filing of an injunction suit by the City of Lima late Thursday afternoon and a temporary order issued by Judge William Klingler requiring that the gas company maintain a four ounce pressure.

"Now that this matter is in court and assigned for hearing on December 17, it would not be proper for me to discuss it or attempt to predict the outcome," Curtin said. "On behalf of the Lima Natural Gas Co. it is sufficient to say at this time that we have been trying by every means at our command to furnish an adequate supply of natural gas to the City of Lima and we welcome the examination into the real facts of the unfortunate controversy which this litigation will bring about. If this lawsuit can obtain for us an adequate supply of natural gas from the producing company, we will certainly be glad of it."

MEN OF CHRIST CHURCH TO TRY THEIR HAND AT PREPARING A DINNER

Men of Christ Church Episcopal will give a dinner in the parish house next Tuesday evening, cooked and served by them. They will also wash up the dishes after the dinner.

The event is to be known as a Waldorfian dinner, for women their husbands and families. Serving will begin at 6 o'clock and will continue until the food supply is exhausted.

Announcements in the church calendar, sent to members Friday by the Rev. Kirk B. O'Ferrall, rector, state the dinner will be cooked by men "skilled" in the art of "waiting" and cleaned up by men "skilled" into dish-washing at home.

An imported corps of waiters have been secured at great expense the men say. They also announce every dish will be a creation, every mouthful a joy. In announcing they will serve the dinner they also refer to themselves as "Man—God's Greatest Creation."

Original entertainment, planned by a special committee, and dancing will follow the dinner.

Sunday Tribune*In This Territory*Will Be REDUCED to*10¢*PAY NO MORE!

The Chicago Tribune has just moved into the biggest and finest newspaper plant in America — more presses, new machinery, greater speed. A year ago the limitations of our old plant compelled us to increase the price of The Chicago Sunday Tribune in this territory to restrict sales. We urged you to borrow a Tribune because we could not supply the demand.

Our new plant and greater facilities remove the necessity for the larger price. We do not profiteer. Therefore, beginning next Sunday, Dec. 5th, the price of the Chicago Sunday Tribune in this territory will be reduced to 10c. Pay no more! And, with larger and better facilities, The Chicago Sunday Tribune is now bigger and better than ever.

A big 24-PAGE PICTORIAL MAGAZINE in rotogravure tint is given FREE with every copy of the Chicago Sunday Tribune. The Chicago Tribune is the only Chicago newspaper which contains a Rotogravure Pictorial Magazine. In it you will find the world's events in pictures. Don't miss this big feature. The St. Martha's Guild of the Christ Episcopal church entertained Friday afternoon with bridge in the Parish house. There were twenty-five tables filled for play and at the close of the game a delicious tea was served.

The large room of the Parish house in which the tables were arranged for play was unusually attractive with huge rustic baskets of chrysanthemums. The proceeds of this affair will be used for the St. Martha's pledge towards the new church.

The committee of arrangements included: Mrs. Randa Zettis Oroy, Mrs. Jack Swenson, Mrs. E. R. Lintemith, Mrs. O. Ben Schultz, Mrs. John Roby and Mrs. Carl Crites.

The members of the X. E. C. club were entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Van Campbell, Spring-st. Needlework was the diversion of the afternoon and at 4 o'clock a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Roland Dinkler, Terrace Court.

A meeting of the Blue Bell club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Taylor, 717 E. Second-st. Following the business session a clever contest arranged by the hostess was held with Mrs. Young as winner of the prize. Mrs. Taylor was successful given by one of the members.

Mrs. Young, Defiance, was the guest of the afternoon. At 4 o'clock a three course luncheon was served. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. George Scheid, 448 McPherson-ave.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Rev. W. H. Howard, pastor of the United Brethren church Thursday evening when Miss Nellie M. Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Garrett, became the bride of Raymond M. Roby, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Roby, Danbury, Conn. Mrs. R. F. Burwell attended the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Roby will make their home at 517 E. Aurora-st.

Mrs. Sadie Robbins, Middletown, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Kirk B. O'Ferrall, W. High-st.

Misses Margaret and Elizabeth Mueller were hostesses to the A. B. club Wednesday evening at their home W. First-st, Delphos. A most delightful evening was spent with games, contests, and needlework. Miss Margaret Kilm and Mrs. Charles Boucher, Chicago, were the only guests. At a late hour refreshments were served.

Misses Bortha and Irene Doll will entertain the club in a fortnight.

ONE OF THE SEASONS VERY BEST BETS

"So Long Letty", Oliver Morosco's great stage success, coming to the Lyric Sunday—A delightful comedy drama full of laughs and beauty.

Crammed to the brim with merriment—a good laugh every minute; seasoned with several genuine truths which teach all who see it a good lesson; embellished with gowns and jewels which reflect Dame Fashion's very latest decrees, "So Long Letty", Oliver Morosco's famous stage success, comes to the Lyric Sunday for four days, offering to the myriad of patrons of this popular house, entertainment that genuinely entertains while it also chases the "blues" away. The plot itself is immense. Two couples live in adjacent bungalows. Tastes differ and it is agreed that wives shall be "swapped" for a week. The wives suspect a frame-up and do some clever scheming themselves. Can you not imagine the genuinely humorous situations which must naturally arise out of such a plan? Then the dresses! And the bathing girls and bathing girls, but none more handsome, or so truly dressed as those who appear in this picture. It's a good picture. You'll enjoy it immensely. Make preparations to see it at the Lyric Sunday, Go early too, and avoid standing.

Open Campaign Against Return of Constantine to Greece

LONDON — (By United Press)—An allied note, declaring "complete liberty of action," will be exercised if King Constantine returns to Greece, will be published widely in Greek newspapers, it was declared Friday, to influence the plebiscite December 3. The note was drafted Thursday in a conference of British, French and Italian officials. It was determined to give the note the widest circulation in the Greek press before the plebiscite on Constantine's return to prevent the Greek government from suppressing it.

The note expressed surprise at the Greek situation, referred to Constantine as one whose "disloyal acts" had caused the allies embarrassment and loss. The King's restoration, it said, would be regarded by the allies as ratification of his hostile acts.

The British press declared the note might have the effect of dissuading Constantine from his return. The Chronicle declared it is now improbable that the allies will consent even to the accession of Crown Prince George if Constantine and Queen Sophie are not debarred from re-entering Greece.

The Palace of Darkened Windows

BY MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

Arlee glanced about hesitantly, without answering, and slowly she let fall the white froth of skirt she had been gathering for the descent. In silence she looked over the temple. The moon had paled from fire to molten silver now, and her scattered sparks of it burned the thousand circling stars. She felt very strange and unreal—a tiny figure topping this great gate in the face of the ancient silence.

"We never have a chance for a word together," Falconer was mumbling, with a nervous hand at his mustache.

Her thoughts came fleetly back from the ancient world.

Her own was upon her. She turned and laughed at him. "We've talked for three whole days!"

"Have we?" But always in some group. I understand that Hill told you what a couple of donkeys we made of ourselves on your account?" Anxiously he scanned her face, silver-clear in the moonlight, for signs of ridicule.

But Arlee's smile was very sweet. It made the sandy-haired young man's heart quicken mysteriously.

"He told me," she said. "I think it was true of you."

"Yes? It was lunacy. He'd got worked up over some horrible story he'd heard," went on the young man in the mingling humor and embarrassment. "And nothing for it but that you'd gone the same way. And if you'll believe it, he had us prowling around that old palace like a pair of jolly idiots primed to get their heads blown off with nothing but a scratch."

"A scratch—? You mean—you don't mean—"

"He didn't tell you that?" Falconer was surprised; he had imagined that Billy's narration had led romantically to Billy's wound. He made the American a silent apology. "He was shot in the arm."

"Badly?"

"Of course not badly—he's all right now, isn't he? He said it was a scratch."

Arlee was silent. He had been hurt all the time that he had been riding with her over the desert. He had been hurt all thru those horrible hot hours. And he had said nothing.

"When I think of what that chap got me in for—scating a man's walls, smashing in his locks, letting myself down in front of his house like a monkey on a rope—I might have been a dashed school kid again." Resentment and reluctant humor struggled in the young man's speech. "Why, the fellow has the imagination of a detective."

And of course he had some reason. Falconer's thought touched on the fair-haired girl of Lima's report. "I'll admit he had me worried—until I heard from the Evershams that you were all O. K. You see what bally nonsense you put into young men's heads," he added with a look of meaning.

"He's a very—very—chivalrous—very man," said Arlee.

"He's a very unbalanced young idiot," contradicted Falconer. "I rather like the chap, himself, you know; he has nerve to spare—but no ballast. He might have set all Cairo talking of you." His voice hardened. "I told him that. I told him you wouldn't thank him for it."

"I do thank him. I thank him with all my heart."

"Well, you've no reason to," Falconer returned in blunt belief. "Linking your name with the Turk fellow, hinting you were in the place—he might have started a lot of rotten rumor."

"What's—rumor?" said the girl to a breathless voice. "He was thinking of—my safety."

"Well, your safety didn't depend on him, did it?" sharp jealousy of her defense of the American intruder drove Falconer to unseemly curtness. He gave a short laugh. "You and I," he said, "seem to be always tilting over some chap or other."

A faint smile touched the girl's lips, a sorry little smile, edged with rueful reminiscence and strange compassion. In silence she looked down into the shadowy temple courts where absurdly small-looking people were strolling to and fro, while Falconer stood looking down at her, with something akin to angry wonder in his adoring eyes.

"Why didn't you write to a chap?" he abruptly demanded.

"Why should I?"

"Then you meant to let it go at that?" He drew a sharp breath. "Just the way you stared off from that table—not a word more?"

"Why didn't you write?" the girl parried.

"I did," indignantly. "Twice—to Alexandria."

"Oh—? I didn't get them."

"I wrote, all right. I was so stirred up over that alarm of Hill's that I urged you to answer me at once. And when you didn't, and when I heard you had written the Evershams, well, I thought I knew what I had to think."

"When I met you here Friday I half expected you to cut me, upon my word."

"But I didn't!" She laughed softly. "I remembered you—perfectly."

"Oh, you did, did you?"

"You've acted as if that was about all you did remember."

"I've been very, very nice to you!"

"But with a difference," he insisted resentfully. "Didn't you know I must have written? You didn't think I wanted to let it stop there, did you? You didn't think I meant that nonsense at all?"

"Please don't go back to that," said the girl hurriedly. "We've been good friends these three days without bringing it up—don't let us do it now."

"Well, I don't enjoy thinking about it." His voice was sharp with feeling. "You gave me the most miserable time of my life."

"I was very horrid."

"You told me you didn't give a plaster for what I thought!"

"I said I didn't give half a plaster!" murmured Arlee orrepressibly, with a wicked dimple.

Reluctantly he grinned. "Well?"

He put to her questioningly.

"Well?"

"Their eyes met, sparkling, combative."

"You do, don't you?"

"What?"

"You do give a plaster for what you think."

"I'm afraid I do. I'm afraid I give a good many plasters for what every one thinks." The girl's smile had suddenly faded; her eyes lowered and sought the far horizons.

In the silence he came closer to her. "Then Arlee—Arlee, dear—"

She started and turned hurriedly. "We must go down—"

"Why must we?"

"They'll be waiting."

"Let 'em. They'll be glad of the chance if they can get away from Emma."

"I want to talk to you."

"I think, Mr. Hill is quite as nice as Lady Claire," flashed Arlee in childish voice.

"Claire seems to agree with you."

Falconer spoke lightly, but underneath sounded the note of the disgruntled male.

of the defection of even the girls he left behind him. He added, with his fatal gift of trueulent expression, "But that's perfectly absurd."

"Why absurd?" Arlee's voice held careful calm. The flash in her eyes was hidden.

The Store That's DIFFERENT

Unloading Our Stock!

Entire New Stock of Men's and Youths' High Grade Clothing
Reduced Below Wholesale Cost

This great offering is all the more interesting—more appealing to YOU—because we have never before offered goods at reduced prices, nor have we ever conducted a "sale." It has been our policy to sell dependable, high-grade clothing at a very small profit.

We have always kept our stocks well regulated, in proportion to our sales, and have never yet approached the end of a season without being pretty well "sold out" on our entire line of clothing. That success was due to the kind of clothing and the values we offered.

This Year It Is Different

Sales have not come up to expectations. And we, with our well-stocked store, find it necessary to cut all prices on men's and boys' clothing to reduce our stock immediately.

There is no need to emphasize the values offered or to describe the quality of the clothing. One quick look will convince you that here is your big chance of the year to get new clothing at a big saving. Even though you do not need a new suit now, it will pay you to buy it and lay it away, as prices are far below what the suit will cost you next year.

Have it charged—to be paid after the holidays.

HOW TO "BE FIT" AT SIXTY

BY DR. LEE HERBERT SMITH

As our boys "came marching home," they brought a certain red-blooded doctrine, and showed us the glory of a perfect body. They will show us how to "keep fit," even if we have passed middle life and are beyond the athletic stage. For the tired business man, the man who feels the daily grind and the nightly fog, has meager appetite, headaches, nerves unstrung, is gloomy, ending in a soggy brain, try the right way. Get out of bed, open the window, breathe deeply, exercise the army "setting-up" exercise or use dumb bells, until in a warm glow.

Before breakfast take hot water, and occasionally castor oil or a pleasant laxative made up of May-apple, aloin, jalap, and sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

As Prof. Strauss says, "The excretion of uric acid we are able to effect by exciting diuresis." Drink copiously of soft rain or distilled water, six or eight glasses per day, hot water before meals, and obtain Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets, for 60 cts., at the nearest drug store and take them three times a day. If you want a trial package send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Anuric" (anti-uric-acid) is the recent discovery of Dr. Pierce and is much more potent than lithia, for it will dissolve uric acid as hot tea dissolves sugar.

CHURCH TO HOLD REAL ESTATE

Catholics Retain Property in Mexico Worth $100,000,000

MEXICO CITY, Mexico — The $100,000,000 worth of property which will remain in possession of the Catholic Church under the decision of the Mexican Supreme Court in the judicial interpretation of Article 27 of the new Constitution has been held for the church by the Society of Anonymous Priests, sometimes called the Society of Mercy.

The income from this property has been devoted to various forms of charity, hospitals and work for the relief of the humble.

The property includes ninety-eight buildings and grounds, three haciendas, twenty-five farms, sixty-six mortgages and various other possessions of the church society, some being structures used in the work among the poor and some bringing in income for use in the different charities.

The court decision has greatly heartened the Catholics, who are now looking forward to more liberal treatment in connection with church property than in the past.

Opening Up Russia's "Treasure-House"

Within walls built high by years of war and revolution, behind doors close-guarded by Trotzky's soldiers, the Russian treasure-house awaits the adventurer with the key of gold. "In the south there are millions of bushels of wheat awaiting export, and oil wells have been running unchecked so long that they have had to bank them up and form lakes of oil." "There is $1,000,000 worth of timber lying at Archangel and other ports on the White Sea." The Siberian seaboard contains "probably the world's greatest undeveloped coal and oil deposits, with the fishing off coast equal to that of Alaska."

While it is all very well, agree some American editors, for the Soviet Government to open the doors of the Muscovite treasure-house, what if the treasure-house is empty? And, referring to the British trade agreement with Soviet Russia, recently announced by Premier Lloyd George, the New York Tribune declares that "to take Lenin and his system into fellowship is to abandon those in Russia who fought for civilization and democratic ideals."

Facts that will awaken mingled feelings of wonder, resentment, and satisfaction are presented in the striking article in this week's number of THE LITERARY DIGEST, December 4th. It reflects the opinion of the American press upon Lloyd George's proposal to resume trade relations with Russia.

$3,000 MADE ON 'LIQUOR TRIP'

Big Profits Realized by Border Bootleggers, Report

REGINA, Canada.—If the State of Montana is not kept well and constantly supplied with all kinds of liquor it is not because the inducements offered by the bootleggers of that State to Canadians is not sufficient, for the owner-driver of a taxicab here informed the International News correspondent that his profits on a slugsy run-running expedition amounted to very little short of $3,000.

The accumulation of this profit incidentally, involved the expenditure of no capital on his own part except the ordinary running costs of his car, for his car was loaded in Regina with whiskey purchased by the agent of the Montana dealer at $3 a bottle and he was instructed to collect $15 a bottle for it from the "wholesale bootlegger" on the American side.

At his rate his profits on a shipment of one gross approximated $2,800. As to how the bootlegger made his own profit the International News correspondent was informed that the heaviest inducements were necessary if the work was to be done. The bootlegger's own smaller, but still substantial, profit is made when the liquor is re-sold in Montana at a still further increase.

Another Iveryman here tells of having been offered $1,000 to do no more than take his car to within seven miles of the international boundary and there hand it over to a man from the American side, who will complete the journey.

TEACHER ARRIVES IN ARCTIC

Completes Dog-Sled Trip Over
Ice to Fort Gibbon

SAN FRANCISCO.—Gravely determined to keep the promise of Uncle Sam, Robert A. Lilly, army instructor, has triumphed over ice and snow, rulers of the Arctic, and has brought education to Doughboys stationed at Fort Gibbons, far in the frozen interior.

A few words in a telegram from Lilly to the Ninth Corps headquarters here tell of his victory in the unique battle with the elements in bringing the printed book to the men in the land of the midnight sun.

It is a thrilling story of luck and undaunted determination on the part of the man who has just completed the harrowing trip by foot and dog sled over several hundred miles of ice-clogged trail from the coast to Fort Gibbon. It was the result of a promise made by Uncle Sam to give an education to the men at the fort. Lilly, an army school teacher, was sent north, but without waiting for orders he outfitted himself with dog teams, furs and supplies for an overland trip to the fort that must be made if the word of Uncle Sam was to be unbroken.

With his books and papers and provisions on the sled, Lilly began his march northward, over drifts and glaciers, along precipitous trails. For thirty days he plowed his way, averaging eighteen miles a day. He conquered the cold, the snow, the loneliness, and last of all he downed the terrors and obstacles of the Yukon trail, which proved such a stumbling block to the gold hunters. Victory is his—and the word of Uncle Sam to his men at Fort Gibbons is kept.

ESSENCE OF LUCK

BUYRUS—"Cappy" Haas, service man with the A. E. F., and local butcher, set a steel trap under his butcher shop to catch rats. Next morning he pulled out the trap to find he had caught a good-sized skunk. "Cappy" shed his working clothes in the barn.

COUNTY SCHOOL YOUTH NOT REQUIRED TO BE VACCINATED, ANNOUNCED

School youth in Allegheny are not subject to vaccination according to announcement made Thursday by Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner.

While free vaccine will be provided for all school pupils who desire it, vaccination will be administered only when the pupil has only been exposed to contagion Dr. Sutter states.

However, they must remain 17 days from school, if exposed, unless vaccinated.

Dr. Sutter is now visiting schools of the county, in connection with his other duties, and is giving health talks, leaving literature of valuable aid to the children. He is looking after their general health, too.

Miss Ida Nickel, school nurse, who visits the county schools in behalf of the Child's Welfare association, performs her work under the supervision of Dr. Sutter, as health commissioner of the county.

AUTOISTS SEEK BETTER HIGHWAYS IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O. — The Ohio Road Federation will urge the State Legislature next winter to provide legislation remedying the following "principal evils" in Ohio highways: "Unimproved" sections frequently without maintenance, in main market roads, long, unsatisfactory and improperly marked detours; village sections of important roads being unimproved for lack of funds; death-trap grade crossings in the country and an inadequate post system.

Federation members, also, will urge that reconstruction of city streets be permitted when two-thirds of abutting property owners' petition council to do so and that entire cost of such reconstruction, except for intersections, be charged to the property owners.

It is claimed many city streets are in bad condition and that in view of the fact that municipalities haven't sufficient money to meet their share of the cost of making such improvements, residents along such streets are willing to pay all the costs.

WINS DECORATION OF CHINESE ORDER

SAN RAFAEL, Cal. — Captain Robert Dollar, of the order of China Ho.

So might the veteran shipping man of the Pacific coast write his name, now that he is the possessor of the decoration of the Chinese order. It has been awarded to him by the Chinese Government for his service during the Great War. General John J. Pershing is also a member of the order.

The medal consists of two silver and gold stars overlapping with a raised shock of wheat in the center. Dollar, during the war, succeeded in securing for the Chinese Government from the United States contracts for the construction of eight steel ships valued at $14,000,000.

CANADA PUTS IN BID FOR DEMPSEY BOUT WITH CARPENTIER

NEW YORK.—An offer of a site for the holding of the Dempsey-Carpentier heavyweight championship fight in Canada was received today by Promoter Tex Rickard.

The proposition, from a syndicate of wealthy Ottawa sportsmen, suggested holding the contest at Hull, just across the river from Ottawa, during June. It was stated that $250,000 was available as a guaranty and Rickard was requested to meet and discuss the matter with a representative of the Canadian syndicate.

Rickard said he would arrange for a conference in the near future but that no definite plans have been made for staging the international titanic battle at any particular place.

CLIQUE CANADA

Under the contract signed by the promoter and the two pugilists the bout can be held anywhere in the United States, Canada, Mexico or Cuba, providing the principals are given sufficient notice of the site to arrange for proper training facilities.

It again was intimated today by the chief promoter that in case it was found inadvisable to hold the contest in or near New York City the match would in all probability be staged in London, where Carpentier is a popular pugilistic idol and a great drawing card.

Dempsey willing to go abroad.

When it was pointed out to Rickard that the existing contract did not cover a ring encounter in Europe he stated that both Manager Kearns and Champion Dempsey had agreed to sign a new contract.

Should the emergency arise it is quite likely that instead of Dempsey receiving $200,000 and Carpentier $200,000 the boxers will agree to battle for a percentage of the gate receipts, which are estimated as likely to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars with the fight staged in London.

RED SOX MAY BE BOUGHT

BOSTON, Mass. — Purchase of the Boston American League Baseball club will be sought by local interests.

Joseph F. Conway, a former president of the New England Amateur Athletic union, said today that financial men of the city were preparing to open negotiations with H. H. Frazee, the present owner.

It was intimated that the deal probably would result in an attempt to bring back to the management of the Red Sox William F. Carrigan, now a banker at Lewiston, Me., who led the team to world series honors in 1915 and 1916.

BOSTON COLLEGE COACH IN DEAL

Conway would be president of the club under the proposed plan for changing ownership, and associated with him would be Maj. Frank Cavanaugh, the Boston college football coach. Conway has been a long time friend of Carrigan and has been regarded by sport followers as more likely than any other man to induce Carrigan to return to football.

The price on the Red Sox club has been set by Frazee at upwards of $1,000,000. How closely the local interests are prepared to approach the asking price is not known.

HAZZE ADMITS DEALS ON

Hugh Duffy, who was appointed manager of the Red Sox recently, said he had received word from President Frazee last night that "an important deal is pending" but he had no information whether it related to ownership of the club or to a trade of players.

DEPORTATION CASE UP — Argument in the deportation proceedings against Ludwig C. K. Mertens, Russian Soviet representative in the United States, will be heard at the department of labor next Tuesday.

WOULD BRIDGE OHIO — The interstate commerce commission Friday received applications from the Big Four Railroad and the Jefferson Bridge and Railroad Company for permission to renew obligations totalling $270,000 to build a bridge across the Ohio river from Louisville, Ky., to Jeffersonville, Ind.

BOXING MGRS. CHICAGO MAY ADOPT BILL FOR BOXING

NEW YORK — The state boxing commission and the license committee at a joint meeting today inflicted a suspension of 30 days on two managers of pugilists and a licensed second for violating a section of the state rules governing boxing bouts.

This section forbids the handlers or seconds coaching any of the principals during the progress of the rounds and distinctly states that seconds must remain seated and silent during rounds.

CHARLEY LEONARD BARRED — Charley Leonard, brother of the world's lightweight champion, was the first to draw suspension under this rule since the Walker law became operative.

He was punished for persistently coaching from a corner of the ring after being warned by Referee Hankup, during the Benny Leonard-Joe Wellington bout in Madison Square garden last Friday night.

DUNDEE'S MANAGER IN LIST — Frank A. Bagley, manager of Willie Jackson and William "Scott" Monthy, who is again taking care of Johnny Dundee's ring interests, was suspended for similar violations during the fifteen round bout between these two lightweight aspirants for Leonard's title at the Manhattan casino last Monday night.

Licenses to conduct bouts were issued to the Brooklyn arena and the Starlight Sporting club, New York.

REVISION OF RULES IN GOLF IS NOW BEING PLANNED

CLEVELAND.—The directors of the Western Golf association recommended the adoption of a new constitution looking towards an American organization, and to promote the best interests of the game for Americans, believing that changes in the rules of golf may be advisable from time to time, according to a statement issued by Wilbur H. Brooks, president of the association, last night.

His statement was prompted by the announcement in Chicago yesterday that the W. G. A. at its January meeting would vote on a proposition to expand and take in the entire country under the name of the American Golf association, a move that probably would result in a break with the U. S. G. A.

St. Andrews rules should be rewritten in response to the popular demand for a set of understandable rules, covering the playing conditions in this country. Mr. Brooks said. His statement in part follows:

"The W. G. A. is neither a local nor sectional body. From a charter membership to ten clubs its membership now extends into thirty-one states, Canada, and Hawaii.

"The Western Golf association believes that Americans understand golf and that they play under different conditions from those existing in other countries, and that Americans are entirely capable of formulating the proper rules for playing the game in this country.

PLASTIC CODE OF RULES — "The W. G. A. believes further that changes in the rules may be advisable from time to time, as our knowledge of the game increases, or as existing rules prove to be unpopular or unsuitable to the conditions under which the game is played. The sessions tomorrow are expected to be of greater importance than usual. The indiscriminate amendment of the present law and game code is opposed and attempts will be made to keep down the number of changes proposed in the law. It is represented that they only lead to confusion. The law will be discussed, and there may be suggestions for amendment, although little is expected from the general assembly due to the preponderance of farmer members.

TECH IS EAGER FOR HOOSIERS — SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Athletic authorities at Notre Dame have received a request for a 1921 game with Georgia Tech, to be played at Atlanta, Ga.

Invitations to send the 1920 squad to Spokane, Wash., and Portland, Ore., for post season games have been rejected on account of the illness of George Gipp, star halfback.

LEGION TO ST. MARYS — The American Legion basketball quintet will journey to St. Marys tonight where they will meet the last independent five of that village.

Resinol for the sportsman's use

Everyone who indulges in indoor or outdoor sports should keep a jar of Resinol ready to relieve the chafing or the itching rash so often produced by overheating the blood. It cools the inflamed spots, stops the itching and burning and restores the skin to its normal condition.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are also widely used for improving poor complexion. Your druggist will tell them.

GIPP HAS PASSED CRISIS, BELIEF

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — George Gipp, Notre Dame football star, who has been at the verge of death of pneumonia for the past week, passed a favorable night last night according to attending physicians, who express the opinion that he has passed the crisis.

Real talent will appear in the exhibition among these billed big men. Moore, Memphis bantam, Jimmy Kelly of Chicago, Bud Christiao of Buffalo, and Johnny Lewis of California. John Meyers, Ralph Parcent, Jack Linow, and Jack Eason will work in wrestling bouts.

PLAN SPRING TRAINING OF CHI CUBS

CHICAGO — Complete plans for the spring training trip of the Cubs will be framed in the next fortnight by Secretary John Seys, who left last night for California to close the details. The Cubs secretary will stop first in Los Angeles to fix the preliminary dates with the teams in the southern part of the state and pass on the condition of the new grounds laid out at Pasadena last spring for the use of the Cubs. He will also elicit the contracts for hotel accommodations in Pasadena.

Seys then will visit San Francisco to arrange definite dates with the Seals, the Oaks, and other teams in that section, and will look over available spots for breaking the jump back to Chicago when the coast trip is finished.

SEAT WEST ABOUT MARCH 3 — It is planned to start the Cubs out of Chicago about March 3, but the return trip will depend on what the club owners fix as the opening date for their championship season.

President Comiskey of the White Sox returned from his Wisconsin preserves with good news for the Nippon Game never was more popular in the north woods than now, but as most of it is thoroly protected for at least another season the sportsmen will have to curb their enthusiasm.

However, the Old Roman had his usual luck during the deer season.

WOULD LIKE DUGAN, BUT — Reports that Comiskey was negotiating for Dugan of the Athletics merely brought a smile to the Sox owner's face. He could use Dugan on the rebuilt White Sox all right, but after last year's experience in angling for George Burns (Comiskey is not an optimist about acquiring players from the elongated manager of the Athletics.

President Johnson of the American league was in St. Louis yesterday, presumably conferring with President Ball of the Browns on business, the nature of which will not be known until developments disclose them.

JOE TINKER TO GO SOUTH — ORLANDO, Fla. — Joe Tinker, former shortstop of the Chicago Cubs, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds and president of the Columbus, Ohio, baseball club, has signed a contract to manage the Orlando club of the Florida State League for the 1921 season.

GOOD PICTURE

Corrine Griffith Charming Thruout Entire Production

WOMEN CERTAIN TO LIKE IT

Orpheum Changes Bill—Pleasing
Acts Presented

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

BEHOLD a beautifully staged and costumed, and in the main well acted, photoplay, called "The Whisper Market" wherein the wife of the American consul in Rio de Janeiro becomes involved in a plot of notorious black-malliers, nearly loses her husband thru the machinations of mad black-malliers and then helps capture them in the end, while husband is blissfully unaware of his wife's proximity to danger.

The production is really more of a fashion show than anything else. It is one of the most exquisitely gowned, hatted and interior decorated photoplays you will ever have seen. Corrine Griffith, who is cast as the consul's wife, runs a close second to Irene Castle when it comes to unusual and bizarre clothes, and is charming thruout the picture.

The plot is rather complicated and disconnected at times and closely concerns: Mr. and Mrs. Saltmarsh, who have been accepted warily by the social set and who have a record in crime; a snail, quite black, Consul North, who has an inkling of their past and who determines to find out all about it; his wife, who, unbeknownst to him, is the center of a scheme to ruin her reputation; and one Mr. Burke, tool of the black-malliers, who, when everything is right in his hands to do the dirty work, falls under the spell of the wife's child-like eyes and surrenders everything. Sounds interesting, doesn't it?

Miss Griffith is prettier than she has been for a long time. She is Mrs. North. Miss Eulalie Jensen, as the black-malliers' wife is a most attractive villainess and the rest of the cast is rather intelligently peopled. "The Whisper Market" is a well lighted, and well directed picture and it surely does delight the feminine eye (and of course, the masculine eye, too.)

It's appearing at the Lyric theatre

"THE ORPHEUM"

CERTAIN bits of the program being shown at the Orpheum this week-end are splendidly put on, one of them is something entirely different; another is a lively little comedy skit; still another is a rough-and-tumble act that is bound to please you.

The headline is called "Hearts and Flowers" and billed as a "superb novelty." It may be a novelty but there is nothing exactly superb about it, altho the burlesque member of the company is good.

Phony and Powell, to my way of thinking, have one of the best acts of the entire six. The gentleman can sing, dance and tell funny things quite satisfactorily, and his little vis-a-vis is a charming person with a pleasing voice.

Fanny Lee & Co. have a little comedy playlet that is good entertainment. Tyson and DeCosta have nothing sensational to offer. The girl is good-looking but that's about all.

Wilber and Adams, the closing number, have another good set, one of these comedy-tumbling-acrobatic affairs that is above the usual offering of this kind.

The opening act, too, is not worthy, because it is decidedly new at least, it was to me. Jack Ray, the principle, manipulates ropes in real cow-boy fashion and does it good, too.

The program is about average, with a few bright spots here and there.

THEATRE DIRECTORY

AT THE SIGMA:

"The Forbidden Thing," which is showing at the Sigma theatre, carries an all-star cast including Helen Jerome Eddy, James Kirkwood and Marcia Manon.

AT THE REGENT:

Rex Beach's "The North Wind's Malice" is the feature attraction appearing at the Regent theatre today and Saturday. Tom Santschi and Vera Gordon have some of the leading roles.

AT THE MAJESTIC:

Elaine Hammerstein heads the cast in "Greater Than Fame" and appearing today and tomorrow at the Majestic theatre.

MAJESTIC ANNOUNCES that he will make romantic movies while continuing the production of comedies. Also he is to produce two musical comedies yearly for the stage. This is in association with A. H. Woods.

KIRKWOOD

James Kirkwood was one of the early players. He has appeared with most of the movie stars. Now he is back on the screen. First National presents him in "The Heart of a Fool," "Man, Woman and Marriage" and "Parade."

NOTES:

W. W. Hodgkinson announces a movie from Zane Grey's tale, "The Man of the Forest."

Buster Keaton is 25. His birthday anniversary was this month. He celebrated it by making the finishing scenes of a new comic to be called "Neighbors."

Viola Dana has completed a movie from a story by F. Scott Fitzgerald. It is called "The Off Shore Pirate."

Two-Gun White Caps, an Indian who posed for the head on the new nickel, will appear in the movie "Not a Drum Was Heard."

Mr. and Mrs. Carter DeHaven who recently released their movie of "Twin Beds" are now at work on a movie of another stage farce, "The Girl in the Taxi."

Milton Sills has a hair cut. He let his hair grow four months to play in "The Faith Healer."

POINT ISABEL TO BE BUSY PORT

Village Where Harding Visited Awakes to Prominence

POINT ISABEL, Texas. — This sleepy little fishing village, which slumbered on in oblivion until the visit of President-elect Harding, brought it into world-wide attention. It is today awakening and holds forth promises of being one of the busiest ports on the southern coasts of the United States.

Point Isabel, for more than a century only a collection of small Mexican fishing shacks, is slated to become the port of the entire Rio Grande Valley. The Government has appropriated money to open a channel for this little port to the Gulf of Mexico, and the public-spirited citizens of the Rio Grande Valley have raised sufficient money to change the Brownsville-Point Isabel narrow gauge railroad into a standard gauge road.

Millions of dollars of produce from the Rio Grande Valley will flow out to the world from this tiny village, and already plans are being made for the establishment of a huge warehouse here.

Point Isabel up to this time has been known locally only, and its population, almost entirely Mexican, has devoted its entire time to fishing, when the population chose to work. The village is built upon the old canal plan and is typical of a handful of marine and sailors attached to a naval station give it the appearance of really belonging to the United States.

WITHOUT A BATHTUB
Primitive indeed is the village now. There is not a bathtub in the entire village. There is one lone telephone line, which connects it with the outer world, and telegraph facilities are nil.

For recreation the people of Point Isabel sit upon the porches of their little shacks all day long in the sun. On rare occasions there is a dance, and the Mexican boys, with gaily colored scarves about their swarthy throats, dance the old-fashioned dances with the greatest of decorum with dark-skinned but prettily featured Mexican girls.

Burros, pigs and cattle roam the village square at will. Dors are never locked. The housework can be moved by any two normal men. There is one general store, and the post-office boasts of two lock boxes. All of this is ready to give way to the march of progress, and historic and quaint old Point Isabel in another year will be a thriving port, pouring out to the world huge supplies of cotton, fruit, vegetables and cattle from the Rio Grande Valley.

TAKING CARE OF CITY DEFICIT FOR 1921 IS BIG COUNCIL PROBLEM

Methods of extracting Lima from a complex and tangled financial situation will probably be one of the main issues up for discussion when council meets in regular session Monday night.

With estimated operating costs placed at $325,000 for the first six months of 1921 and estimated receipts for the same period at $200,000, the city faces a $125,000 deficiency. It has been shown.

Increases in salary, wanted some time ago by council, will be one of the reasons for an increase in operating expenses for the coming year, Mayor F. A. Burkhardt said Friday.

The task of ironing matters out to meet the deficiency rests mainly with a special council finance committee. More than a week ago in a special session the council named a special committee which was instructed to appeal to the state legislature for aid in getting Lima out of its financial difficulties.

The finance committee is expected to make some sort of a report Monday night. It was stated Friday.

HUSBAND, IN DIVORCE SUIT, ASKS RESTORATION OF WIFE'S MAIDEN NAME

W. Scott Richardson, in a suit for divorce from his wife, Julia G. Richardson, Kenton, says she often told him she thought more of a man named Harley A. Bell, in a minute, than of her husband in a whole lifetime.

Richardson and his wife, Lulu G. Williams, were married in Kenton, April, 1919. Richardson charges his wife did not want children, while he hoped to see a family of little ones.

He declares she often told him she had no love for him and did not care how soon he got a divorce. He charges indiscreet actions with the Bell of which Mrs. Richardson says she is so fond.

They separated in August, 1920. Richardson says he does not wish his divorced wife to bear his name and asks she be restored to her maiden name of Williams.

TWO TAKEN CLAIMED BOGUS FURNACE CLEANERS

Said to have appeared at the Henry Deisel mansion on S. Cole-st. and stating that they had been sent there to clean the furnace, resulted in the arrest Thursday night of Ray Sisson, 19, of 450 N. Jackson-st., and John Cavanaugh, 38, of the Mission Home.

Mrs. Deisel answered them at the door and they said they were employees of the North Side Clear factory. When Mrs. Deisel said she would phone the factory, the two men ran from the yard.

Sisson and Cavanaugh are held on suspicion.

COUNTY AND CITY UNITE IN TEACHER INSTITUTE

Teachers of Allen-co will meet in joint session Saturday at Central High school auditorium with Lima city teachers, for the first teachers' institute of the school year.

Two sessions will be held, one in the morning and again in the afternoon. Frank B. Pearson, Columbus, former superintendent of schools of Ohio, will be the speaker.

McKINNEY CONVICTED.
Frank McKinney, tried Thursday on an indictment for theft of an Oakland roadster automobile from Miles Standish, was convicted. The jury took the case for deliberation at 4:20 o'clock and at 9:05 p. m. returned a verdict of guilty as charged. Sentence will be imposed later by Judge Kilgore.

MUTT AND JEFF—MUTT, JEFF AND SPIVIS, ALL MEN OF THEIR WORD—

BRINGING UP FATHER—

By McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

"Yes," said the traveler, "I had an amusing journey, up to town."

"How do you know they were Scotsmen?" asked the cashier curiously. "By their accent, I suppose?" "No. You see they both happened to take their pipes out together. Well, they fished them and then each calmly waited for the other to strike a match."

"Well, what happened?"

"Oh, I brought out my pipe and both of them waited for my match."

He paused for oratorical effect, and a tired mother was heard to say, "The gas meter!"

"Those few arrivals at Seaview Inn seem to be quite wealthy." "They are prudent, too." "How's that?" "They had been here only a few days, when they contrived to get the word passed around that they amassed every dollar of their fortune before the war started."

STOMACH O. K.

Indigestion, Acidity, Sourness and Gases ended with "Pape's Diapensin"

Millions of people know that it is needless to be bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapensin neutralize acidity and give relief at once.

When your meals don't fit and you feel uncomfortable, when you belch gases, acids or raise sour, undigested food. When you feel pains of indigestion, heartburn or headache, from acidity, just eat a tablet of Pape's Diapensin and the stomach distress is gone.

The cost is so little. The benefits so great. You, too, will be a Diapensin enthusiast afterwards—Adv.

HARDING TO LAND TOMORROW

Arrives At Norfolk About Noon
—Off Carolinas Today

ON BOARD THE STEAMSHIP PASTORES — (By Wireless to Associated Press) — Cool weather expected President-elect and Mrs.
Warren G. Harding Friday. The steamer Pastores, on which they are returning to Norfolk from Colon, was off the Carolinas Friday morning, and in spite of a heavy wind from the north, she was making good headway.

The steamer, however, is behind her schedule, and it is uncertain at what hour she will dock at Norfolk.

As Mr. Harding neared the United States there was renewed discussion among his companions regarding the possibility that he might choose some other place than his home in Marion,

Ohio, for his conference on the league of nations and other subjects which must be thrashed out before he assumes office. He has been urged by some friends to spend the winter in some southern state, where there are better hotel and railway facilities which are assuming some importance in view of the number of callers expected to wait on the president-elect.

Hot Springs, Virginia, White Sulphur Springs and various Florida resorts have been suggested, but it was said that no decision had been reached. Both Senator and Mrs. Harding are understood to favor remaining in Marion during the coming winter if practicable.

SHORT GAS SHUTS GLASS PLANTS

Big Industries in West Virginia
Closed Down

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—Because of a shortage of natural gas, five gas plants the Norwood, the Clarksburg, the Travis and the Tuna, and the Akro-Agate Marble, have been forced to suspend operations here. Reports from all parts of West Virginia tell of an acute gas shortage in several industrial centres, due to the first cold spell of the present winter. The gas supply has been inadequate in recent years and when every cold spell comes preference is given the domestic consumers. The plants which suffer the most thru curtailment of the gas supply are largely glass factories and if the suspension is in force any considerable length of time a decided curtailment of the output is probably.

Many hand plant factories at affiliated with the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers centre in the West Virginia gas belt and practically all the plants in two sections have blocked their fires. Window glass factories are operating on the second period, and owing to war-time restrictions, labor and other operating difficulties of the year, it is predicted that a shortage of glass will occur.

Among the plants which are blocked are the Liberty Window Glass and West Fork Glass of Clarksburg in addition to the four named above; Premier Window Glass and Penn Window Glass of Pennsboro; Pioneer Window Glass, of Marietta, and Fairmount Window Glass of Fairmont. Factories at Pleasantville, Ohio, are also closed.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—At the offices of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the American Window Glass Company, leaders of the Pittsburgh glass industry, it was stated that the plants of these two great concerns, located in Western Pennsylvania, Indiana and other States, have thus far escaped any fuel problem.

WANT SUB-CHASER FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT
BOSTON — "Radio the chief we have located the fire and will stand by until the arrival of the engines." The above may actually take place provided Mayor Peter's desire to acquire a sub-chaser for Boston Fire Department is realized. He has authorized Fire Commissioner Murphy to go to Washington and investigate the possibilities of the wartime sub-chasers the Government is now selling to seaboard cities.

Bran, Middlings and Mixed Feed at Dorsey's.

ONE CINDER COSTS RAILROAD JUST $1,500
BOSTON — The Supreme Judicial Court is called upon to decide an interesting question in the suit of Solomon Shine, a shoe salesman, against the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad for injuries received when a cinder entered his eye. Shine, who is 72 years old, boarded a train at Taunton, September 20, 1917, and sat at an open window. He claims he suffered an injury from a piece of cinder from the locomotive. The case was reported to a full bench by Judge Raymond. If the court finds for him, Shine will receive $1,500 damages.

MANY IDLE MURRANES

LARAMIE, Wyo. — Whittle your own breeze out of this one: Meta Young and George Idle were recently married here, making the third match between the Idles and Young families, three Idle brothers marrying three Young sisters.

LADY DECLARES SHE CAN PROVE THAT DRECO GAVE HER RELIEF

Her hands often went to sleep, and she had to rub them to start circulation; bowels were constipated, digestion very poor and nerves on edge.

"I feel better than I have in ten years, and have gained in weight since taking Dreco," are the words of that highly esteemed lady, Mrs. Lucile May, of 99 W. Market, Lima, Ohio.

"My back used to feel that it would break; I was daily constipated, couldn't eat much because my digestion was so poor; my nerves were on edge and my sleep very light so that I'd awake from any slight noise.

"My hands often went to sleep, and I'd have to rub and pound them to get the circulation started. All these troubles are gone since taking Dreco. I never have a backache; sleep sound; have a fine appetite; bowels act regular every day; am gaining in weight and feel great. If anyone has any doubts about Dreco, I can prove to them what it will do."

Dreco acts on the vital organs to build them up so that they perform as Nature intends. Dreco does not just "boost you up", while you take it, but restores the organs to normal healthy activity. That is why Dreco results are lasting.

All drugists now sell Dreco and it is especially introduced in light so that I'd awake from any slight noise.

NATURE PUT IRON FOR YOUR BLOOD

In the hands of grains and the roots and skins of fruits and vegetables, but modern methods of cooking throw all these things away—hence the alarming increase in anemia—iron starvation of the blood, with its ever ending train of symptoms of nervous irritability, general weakness, fatigue, disturbed digestion, headaches, pains across the back, etc.

Either go back to nature or take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to help enrich your blood and revitalize your worn out exhausted nerves.

'U.S. STILL STANDS WITH ALLIES'

English View of America's Refusal to Ratify League

"HAS NOT FAILED EUROPE"

"Doing More For Relief Than All Other Powers"

(BY EARLE C. RHEVES)
LONDON — "There is an impression in many minds that America has failed Europe, refused to ratify the peace treaty and withdrawn from participation in the great work of reconstruction—in other words, has practically abandoned her former allies in the time of their greatest need."

And what is the actual fact? America has been doing more for the relief and reconstruction of Europe than all other powers put together. Such is the corrective to popular opinion in Europe, and tribute to America given by E. R. Peacock, an Englishman who has traveled widely during recent months and who writes from Australia to the Spectator.

"This is a bold statement," he says, "but from personal experience and observation I believe it to be absolutely beyond dispute and probably the measure of her help is only feebly indicated by that comparison."

To the average Englishman, who cannot rid himself of the idea that America and the Americans always do things with a brass band accompaniment, Peacock's portrayal of America's effort of mercy undoubtedly comes as a surprise. Unquestionably the vague opinion of the average man in the street here is that America has abandoned Europe. The idea was strengthened by the election results.

AMERICAN RELIEF WORK

"Since the Armistice," Peacock writes, "I have visited most of the countries between Asia Minor and Denmark, and between the English Channel and the Baltic provinces. Everywhere I have found social service agencies from America working along unostentatiously, but very practically and efficiently in the interest of the people suffering from the effects of the war. There is no regard for nationality, race, religion or politics, but simply the recognition of human need."

"The American is positive, practical and constructive, and everything that touches his sympathy makes a strong appeal to his idealism."

"Here is America supplying the food gratuitously, rendering the organizing service and feeding between 3,000,000 and 3,500,000 children every day—day after day, week after week, and month after month, during the armistice and right up to the present time."

"We have got used to talking in big figures and they have lost their real significance. The mind cannot imagine the task this represents."

Peacock outlined for his countrymen the main channels through which this work is done; Hoover's Child Welfare organization, the American Relief Administration Warehouse, the American Red Cross Society, the American Friends Service Committee, the Y. M. C. A. the Y. W. C. A. and others.

"This does not pretend to be a complete account of America's work in Europe," he concludes, "being simply that which has come before the observation of a single traveller."

STANDS WITH ALLIES
"It demonstrates, however, that America is not standing out of the work, or abandoning the Allies, but, on the contrary, is in it up to the neck—saving lives, healing the sick, feeding the hungry, especially women and children, bringing more than a ray of hope, comfort and sunshine into a sorely ravaged world, and winning the gratitude of millions upon millions of unfortunate people who have had no share or influence in bringing about the disaster which has come upon them."

Stop That Cough!

Special Notice To Readers Of The News

The highest medical authorities in the United States and Great Britain strongly endorse the medical ingredients used in the preparation of Nuxite Ointment, for an aid in the treatment of nasal catarrh, soreness in the chest, pneumonia, cold in the head, tonsillitis, sore throat, asthma and spasmodic croup. When used according to directions, there is no preparation which is more powerful as an auxiliary treatment or as an aid in the prevention of the above troubles.

A cough or sore inflamed throat is a direct warning, and unless it is promptly attended to, more serious complications are sure to follow. Nuxite Cough Syrup is an ideal, early treatment for these conditions and no home should be without this splendid treatment, which is prepared only from carefully selected medicinal ingredients most highly endorsed and recommended by the highest medical authorities of both America and Europe.

The Nuxite preparations are sold in Lima at Hunter's Public Square Store and at the following druggists: The Stewart Drug Store, St. Marys, Ohio; Dunathan Drug Co., St. Marys, Ohio; H. C. Richards Retail Store, Spencerville, Ohio; S. E. Lewis, Columbus Grove, Ohio; J. W. BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elxir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried. All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes. If you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit, don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to tell it. Everybody's doing it. When your cold or cough is so bad, take the rest of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.

JUST A GIRL

BY JANE PHILLIPS

A HAPPY DAY TOGETHER

"Who is Mr. Claxton?" Mother asked as she buried her nose in the flowers.

"My employer. I have mentioned him several times."

"Oh, yes, now I recall him, but I did not connect him with flowers for me. Why should I?"

Why indeed? It was only one more proof of his kindness. I was very proud and happy that he should think of Mother, should try to make her arrival at the home I had made for her pleasant by his thoughtfulness.

But I was so happy, so anxious to show Mother our little home and to talk to her, that I soon forgot Mr. Claxton, everything but that I had my darling mother with me, and that we had a home all our own even if it were a very simple one.

We didn't unpack that night, made a little supper at midnight when Mother declared she was hungry. We had talked so hard and so fast the time had slipped by unheeded.

The next day was Saturday, and Mr. Claxton had told me I need not come down. So as soon as we finished breakfast we unpacked Mother's trunk. She had many little things with her—father's picture in a silver frame, her lovely toilet articles he had given her only a little while before he died, which I had insisted she keep, and which gave the room an air of elegance when we had disposed them to advantage.

"My room is so pretty, dear, and your's so plain," she complained. "I am a bachelor girl, Mother. I have no time for fool-decorations. I intend to care for my own room, and if I had a lot of knickknacks around I am afraid they would not get dusted."

"My dear little girl!" Mother took me in her arms. "Don't you suppose I see thru your little subterfuge? That I know you spent so much for my room that you had to economize on your own? Everything is very wonderful, dear, but you the most wonderful of all. I don't yet understand how you brought up as you were—have been able to do it."

"My bringing up was a hindrance, Mother—at first. It made things seem harder than they were," I answered lightly. "But now nothing seems hard. I have a nice position, everyone is kind to me, and I am earning enough to be independent and have you. What more could I ask?"

"And you never regret the old times, the friends you loved?"

"Not any more. My time and thoughts are too filled with work and Mother dear. I couldn't go back now—not to the butterfly life I led before I knew what it was to work."

I think I have changed—perhaps more than I realize. I thought of Kenneth Lawrence. Would he think me changed for the worse?

"You have changed, dear, but it is only natural that you should. Care, responsibility, and hard work would change any girl. I wish I might have helped you more."

"It's a slave you'll be to this little flat now, Mother dear! Meals to get, dishes to wash, cleaning to do, and the marketing. You won't have much time to be lonely."

"I think I never shall be lonely again. I feel that your father knows we are together at last, and that he is happy that it is so. I cannot even yet think of him as dead. He is a very living presence to me."

"And to me, Mother. In all these hard years things he said, his advice, have been in my mind and have helped me. Yes, I am sure that Dad knows, and is glad."

After we had unpacked all Mother's things and put them in place, hung her clothes in the closet, or laid them in the bureau drawers, we went to market. Mother would be strange for a time, and I wanted to show her the way to the nearest shops. After we had made our simple purchases, we went to the pancake shop for lunch. I had not told Mary we were coming, and her delight was amusing. Tom, too, was so pleased that Mother said:

"You and your friends will spoil me, Zena. And what a darling shop! And I never ate such griddle cakes."

"Pancakes, Mother! This is a pancake shop."

After we finished our luncheon we walked slowly home and spent the afternoon talking as only mother and daughter who had been so long separated could talk.

Mother started me when she asked: "Did you communicate with that young Mr. Lawrence after I sent you Mr. Harkness' letter?"

was subject to fierce headaches that made me sick all over, and although I tried numerous medicines got no relief.

"I saw several Tanlac testimonials and finally concluded to give the medicine a trial. Well, it gave me the surprise of my life by getting right down to the bottom of my case and building me up rapidly. My appetite is good now and I relish whatever I eat, and nothing hurts my stomach any more."

"The headaches are a thing of the past and I feel much stronger, brighter, and more like myself than I have for the longest time. I have gained considerable weight, my nerves are perfectly normal and I am just a well and happy woman, and I owe all my improved condition to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Lima by Hunter's Drug Stores and the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

Cincinnati Woman Tells of the Wonderful Benefits She Obtained from Tanlac

"Tanlac helped me just like it had been made especially for my case," said Mrs. M. Gatto, 17 Tower St., East Clifton, Cincinnati, "and it certainly is wonderful how quick the right medicine will get a person to feeling right again."

"Two years ago my stomach commenced troubling me, and gradually got worse until a few weeks ago when I began taking Tanlac. My food did not digest properly and seemed to ferment, forming gas that gave me much discomfort and lots of pain. My appetite was so poor I never relished anything I ate."

"I was in such a bad, nervous, run-down condition I couldn't rest at night, and always got up feeling even worse than when I retired. I
